FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

Washington, 18.—The question pending was the adoption of the first of the new rules, relating to the election of President pro tem. and his right, in case of absence, to name a substitute who should perform the duties of the chair for three days.

On motion of Garland the division rule was agreed to, so as to permit will not recognize the new Annam the first two clauses which are not objected to to be voted upon separately. On the question of agreeing to the third clause, which gives grave objections which existed in this clause, owing to the complica-tion which might ensue in case of the death of the President and Vice-President. He thought it placed the question of presidential succession in a very dangerous position.

The Senate went into executive session. When the doors were opened it went into committee of the whole for the purpose of con-tinuing consideration of the new

After further discussion the Senate adjourned.
